PURPOSE: To set the talking state after it is confirmed that a replied opposite party is a telephone set in the case of list transmission.

CONSTITUTION: A personal computer 1 reads a customer management list file 5 and displays the read data onto a display device 2 and a destination desired to be transacted is selected by a key board 3 or the like. An automatic dial processing section 12 in the personal computer 1 makes automatic dialing to the selected destination. A network control section 9 after dialing detects no busy tone and loss of a call tone and monitors the line for a prescribed time and discriminates it that the opposite party is not the personal computer by detecting no carrier and no answer-tone, connects a telephone line 11 to a telephone set 10 to attain mutual-talking by the telephone set.
